Important Info

Naming a Funeral Home as a Beneficiary (Not available in all states): When a funeral home is named as the beneficiary, there is a possibility that the proceeds from the policy may exceed the cost of the funeral. The funeral home may not be obligated to refund the remainder of the proceeds. You may have the option to collaterally assign the policy instead. You may wish to speak with your agent, attorney, or financial planner for additional information on establishing payment to a funeral home.

Irrevocable Beneficiaries: To name your beneficiary as irrevocable, please write "Irrevocable" next to the name of the beneficiary on the form. If a beneficiary is named as irrevocable, the beneficiary designation cannot be changed without the consent of the irrevocable beneficiary. The irrevocable beneficiary may be required to sign other requests for changes to, or disbursements from, the policy.

Contingent Beneficiary InformationSection 4

If additional space for Contingent Beneficiaries is needed, please attach additional pages. All policy owners must sign and date this form.

What is a Contingent Beneficiary?

A Contingent Beneficiary is a person, estate, or trust that receives the assets of a person who dies if the primary beneficiary, for any reason, cannot receive the assets. You do not have to elect a contingent beneficiary.

If this Contingent Beneficiary section is left blank, the current contingent beneficiary designations will be revoked.

The Contingent Beneficiary Percentage Total must equal 100%. Please do not specify in dollars.
